

The making of the RAF Linton-on-Ouse diorama

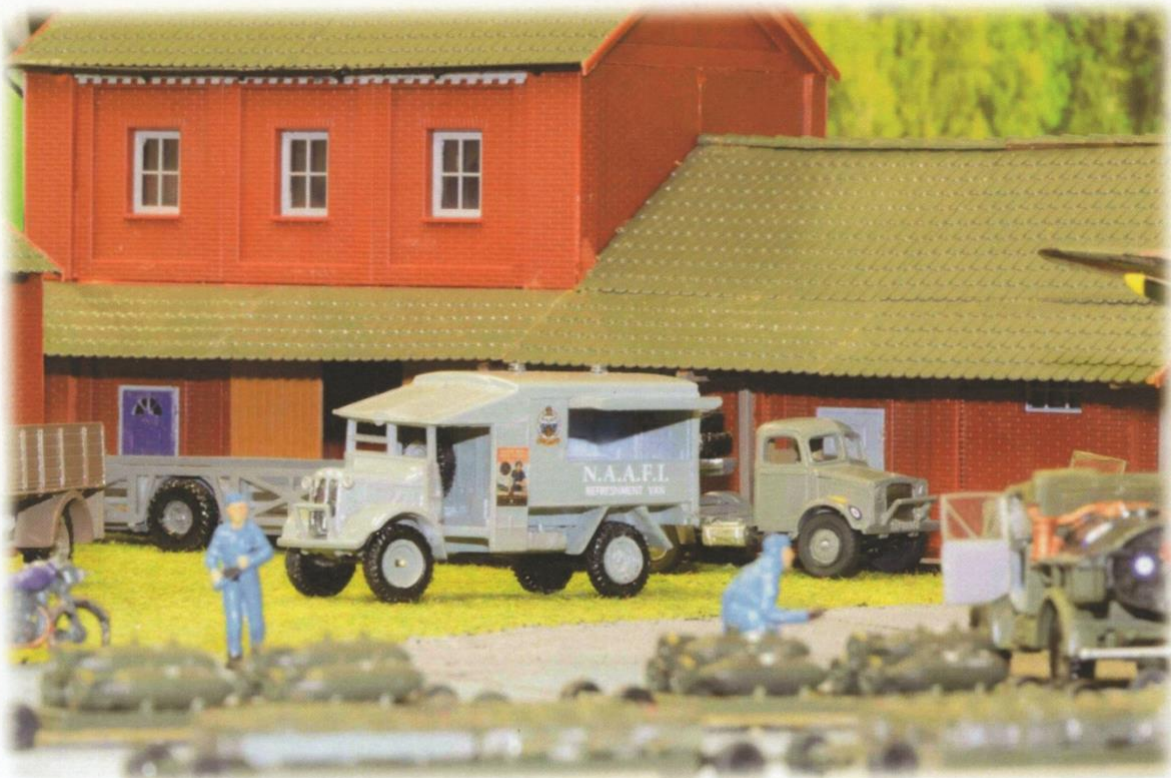

The question is: how did we create the Yorkshire fog without photo-shopping, smoke or a fog machine?

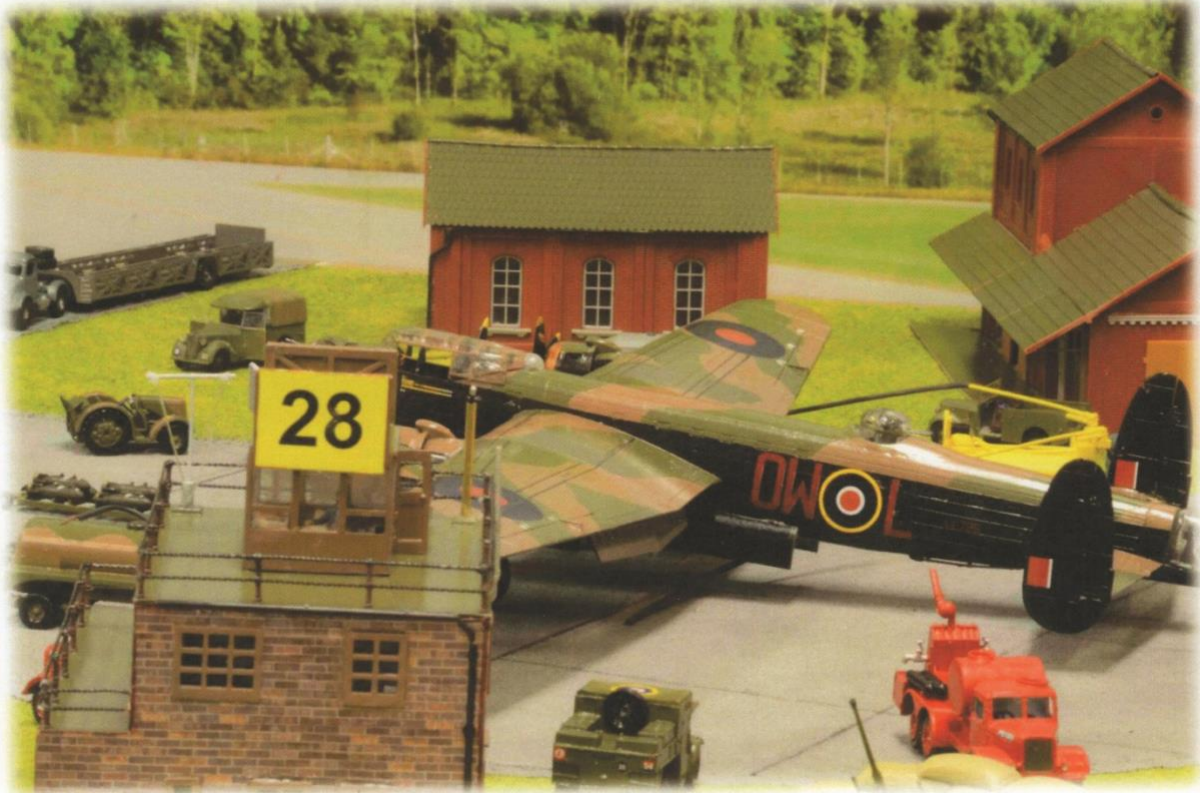

Squadron Leader Loucks anxiously searching for the last of his airborne Lancasters to return safely

The N.A.A.F.I refreshment van, awaiting the exhausted crew of OW-L.
The Navy, Army and Air Force Institutes is an organisation created by the British government in 1921 to run recreational establishments needed by the British Armed Forces, and to sell goods to servicemen and their families

The number 28 on the landing board of the control tower guides the returning aircraft to one of three runways at RAF Linton-on-Ouse. In this case, runway 10/28, (compass heading +/- due west, 280 degrees)
